

JESUS TAUGHT

Mark 1:21-28

Matthew 5

Matthew 7:24-28

Awareness

Before listening, reflect:

- Was there a teacher that made a lasting impact on you? If so, what made this teacher stand out from the others?
- What does it mean to be a disciple?

Many of Jesus' lessons are preserved for us in the Gospels. Jesus intentionally took time to teach his disciples and the Gospels tell us that when Jesus taught, people were amazed. What was so astonishing about Jesus' teaching? His style? His content? By studying the teachings of Jesus we deepen our understanding of his message and discover what made his teaching so distinct and powerful compared to the fellow rabbis of his day. Join us as we learn at the feet of Jesus and grow in our discipleship too.

Reflection

After listening, consider:

- Why does it matter that Jesus's teaching builds upon or reinterprets Jewish tradition ("taking what's old and making it new") as opposed to teaching something brand new?
- How does teaching or sharing what we've learned also help us grow as disciples?
- In what ways are you engaging in lifelong spiritual learning? How are you intentionally exercising your faith and growing as a disciple of Christ?
- We aren't all called to be preachers or even Bible study leaders. If the idea of teaching in those settings makes you want to hide, how else might you exercise your teaching muscle to share what you've learned from digging in to scripture and life with Christ?
- At the close of the episode, host Scott Hoezee says, "What do we teach? Well, Jesus just said it: Everything I taught you...Dave, the how...how do we teach others?" Host Dave Bast answers, "the how is answered also by Jesus. We teach the same way he did, with grace, with acceptance, with forgiveness, with tolerance for the people who are burdened with their sins." What do you think is more challenging for you—teaching what Jesus taught or teaching how Jesus taught? Why?

Conclusion

Spend some time reflecting on and praying about your answers to the above questions. Close your time of prayer with this prayer from Canyon Road: A Book of Prayer, by Kari Kristina Reeves.

“Teach me how to live like you live.

Teach me how to think like you think.

Teach me how to feel like you feel.

Teach me how to love like you love.

Teach me how to breathe in the Spirit of life, and exhale the Spirit of life, moving always in oneness with you, my God. Be my Teacher, be my Guide, God of heaven, God of earth, God of the sun, God of the moon, God of the galaxies, God of the oceans, God of the mountains, God of the jungles, God of the snowcaps, God of the skies, Receive my prayer, receive me” (p. 85).
